Miss Bertha Collins, teacher of education in Tarkio college, was a passenger on the Catalina, which caught fire while at sea. By heroic work the ship and passengers were saved, and Miss Collins' friends are pleased to learn that she is safe on European soil.

It was a close call to the Forest City carrying factory last Tuesday from being destroyed by fire. Gasoline escaped from the coppers furnace, and becoming ignited, sent a flame up the chimney, through the ceiling. Prompt action extinguished the flames, with but little or no damage.

Alex. Vanhuskirk received a peck of peach plums, the product of an Idaho farm, sent by his friend, John W. Poe. We had a sample laid out on table, and we must say we found it the finest fruit of the plum variety that we have ever seen. It measured six inches around, and its meat laid firm around the seed, with a delicious flavor.

The tax paying citizens of Oregon have taxed themselves heavily to put in a waterworks system in order that our farmers friends may have an abundance of the best of water for irrigation and stock when in the city and we hope they will show their appreciation of this by entering the decoration class. A premium will be offered for the best decorated single horse carriage; best decorated two horse carriage; best decorated saddle horse. Hand your name to R. C. Benton, chairman of the committee.

A special from Camp Alger says: Arrangements have been practically completed for the abandonment of Camp Russell A. Alger, near Falls Church, Va. A telegram was received from Major General Graham, commanding the Second army corps, comprising all the troops at that camp, saying, that he has arranged for the departure of his headquarters and a battalion of the Ninth volunteer infantry, which has acted as guard at headquarters, for Middleton, Pa. Tuesday, in the morning the work of clearing up the camp and providing for transportation of tents, baggage and men, is going on under his direction. Lieutenant Colonel Burnham, of the Fourth Missouri volunteer infantry, will be left in charge to close up the rear.

Will Be Cared For.

Nobody will be any better treated during the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic at Forest City, September 20 to 27, than the old soldiers who come with their pasts and are accommodated in the roughest and newest of the school houses. A member of the committee on school houses has been delegated to take charge of one school house as officer of the day and he will give them the best of the thousands of members of the order who are to be provided for the accommodation of the veterans who, as is customary, will bring personal articles with them. The best of sanitary arrangements have been provided, with wash rooms and similar adjuncts. Special trips will be paid to every school house each morning by an army of best known and most skillful physicians, who have volunteered to serve in the medical corps; and free medical attention will be given. Eating places will be provided for members of porters convenient to the schools as possible. Similar accommodations to those in the school houses will be extended to the veterans as desire to camp out in Camp Sherman. It is predicted that numbers of old soldiers who go into camp will seldom if ever come down town as the entertainment that will be provided at Chester Park in the way of operas, fireworks, concerts, drill, spectacular shows, and other amusements, will be furnished the old soldiers for 25 cents. In all arrangements the Cincinnati committee have had their mind on the thousands of members of the order who will come, and it is determined that no old soldier shall go away dissatisfied. When a man is ready to go consult with Vice Hovey, the agent of the Burlington route, for your through ticket to Cincinnati via St. Louis or Chicago. Those contemplating a trip should be looking after their transportation. Lowest rates over the route.

Christian Endeavor Convention.

One of the heartiest and best conventions of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor was held in our city at town of New Point, August 13-14. All were so royally entertained in the pleasant homes, such large and appreciative audiences filled the "evening" decorated churches, every one responded so earnestly to subjects on the program that we feel that it was indeed good for us. The afternoon session was for the delegates from abroad may add to the building up of each of our local societies. The convention opened at 2 o'clock with singing and prayer followed by the "evening" of delegates' and appointment of committees. The reports given show a membership of some 100 County. Enthusiasm and devotion to the cause were not present at the time these reports were asked for.

The evening session discussed the question, "The Attitude of the Endeavor Society." The reports given show a membership of some 100 County. Enthusiasm and devotion to the cause were not present at the time these reports were asked for.

The bombardment, which began at 9:30 a. m., was continued for two hours, and then the Americans stormed the trenches, sweeping all before them.

Those within the walls attempted no resistance. The First Colorado volunteers stormed the outer trenches and drove the Spaniards into the second line of defenses. Then the American troops swept on, driving all the Spaniards into the inner fortifications, where the Spanish commander, seeing that further resistance was useless, hoisted the white flag and surrendered.

The losses American and Spanish are not yet known. The Spanish in the trenches probably numbered 3,000 men. The American attacking force numbered 10,000, and the Americans were better armed, better trained and in better condition.

They live twelve or thirteen miles south of Kiawakaw, are not far from the north territory, and are growing in strong samples of grass indigenous to that country which are very fine. One of them is used for hay. It is something new, and is a very good one. The prairie here before they were plowed up. Another is buffalo grass, of excellent quality. Some white corn of which we have a sample, and a very hard one, but is said to be easily pulverized in plowing and when supplied with plenty of moisture produces a very large crop. Watermelons grow so large that operators have yet, cloudy nights, in the same melon after having been busy eating for a half hour. Oklahoma is a great country.

Samuel B. Lukens.

He died at home near this city on Sunday last, August 18, 1898. Samuel B. Lukens was 72 years of age.

He was born in Harrison county, Ohio, March 3, 1826. His early days were spent on a farm, and when the age of 21 he began to learn the art of dentistry, beginning his profession at Mount Pleasant, Ohio. Completing his course he located at Gadsden, Ohio, where he continued for sixteen years. In the fall of 1865 he located in Lewis county, this state, and in 1871 he came to this city, and practiced his profession until 1881 when his health failed him, and he retired to a fruit farm near this city, where he passed his declining years. He has for years been a victim of paralysis, and for the past five years has been a continuous case. He was raised a Quaker, and has always adhered to the many of the sterling principles taught by that sect. In 1849 he was married to Miss Deborah J. Johnson, of Lynchburg, Va., who survives him, and is also a Quaker. Mr. Lukens was a member of the M. E. church, and was licensed to preach in 1870.

He also leaves a family of children; these are: Charles W. Mrs. J. C. Meyer, and John J., of this city; and Mrs. Susan Pemberton, of Idaho. All of his children are married and have a number of children, also five sisters and a brother survive.

For several years the feeble condition of this old couple, necessitated their having constant attendants and they have been making their home with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Meyer.

A day or two before his death, seemingly having a premonition of his death, he called all his folks about him, and asked the forgiveness of all for any wrong he might have committed.

Funeral services were conducted from their home on Monday, 15th inst., by Rev. Henry Crampton, of the M. E. church, the remains being laid to rest in the Maple Grove cemetery.

Card of Thanks.

We cannot find words to express our gratitude to our neighbors and friends for their sympathy and kindness shown in the death of our father. Let us hope that in time of grief and sorrow they may have such loving friends. Then they will know how we appreciate their kindness to us.
